

Junction Rings for Guide Lines, kit consisting of 3 rings

Order number: AS-06150

By using the junction rings more guide ropes are combined. The procedure in large spaces is facilitated considerably. The tactile markings allow easy orientation for the teams on which guide line they are.

The junction rings are made of fireproof PX700 material and have fluorescent nodes. These are used to identify the teams that are in the scene of fire or to identify the crosses of more guide lines in the scene.
