

FireSales Fog Machine Cirrus battery mode, incl. 250 ml fog fluid and transportbox

Order number: AU-01165

FireWare has many years of experience with situations that quickly require a small amount of smoke. The FireSales Cirrus is developed especially for these situations. It works on a battery, so it can also be used without power supply on the location, at an outdoors training for instance. The machine is very robust and the enclosure is made out of stainless steel. The Cirrus is directly ready to use and can be controlled with a button on the handle. The output can be regulated on the machine itself as well. The smoke machine can produce smoke continuously for 10 minutes on one battery charge.

- ideal for locations without power supply
- stainless steel enclosure
- 1 second warm-up period
- fluid tank can be taken out
