

FireSales Burning Gel Low Smoke, content: 4 l

Order number: AU-03125

With the low smoke flammable gel it is possible to create fire in a quick and safe manner. Special about the gel is that the product can be used indoors because the flammable gel hardly produces any smoke. Furthermore there is hardly any black smut left after the incineration. The fire from this gel becomes less hot than smoking pastes. As a result the low smoke flammable gel is particularly suitable to be used on a fire manikin. The lower temperature extends the life span of the fire manikin. The gel is suitable for every non-flammable surface, such as the bonnet of a scrap car. Flammable gel is comparable to hair gel with regard to structure and can therefore also be smeared on vertical or sloping surfaces. For example on a cooker hood in case of a fire in a kitchen.
