

FireSales Practice Foam, content: 5 l

Order number: AU-03202

Practice Foam is suitable to be used in practice extinguishers such as the spray foam practice extinguishers. The practice foam is biodegradable and therefore suitable for various locations. It is also dermatologically tested and does not cause skin irritation. To put out a fire with practice foam the student will need to properly command the technique. The extinguishing effect of the foam is less than in the case of a real spray foam. As a result the extinguishing technique can be practiced better.
