

Origin Outdoors Camping Mat, self inflatable

Order number: CA-03301

Durable, comfortable and self-inflating sleeping mat with plastic valve. The surface of the mat is made of water-repellent polyester and is therefore easy to clean. Thanks to the high-density PU foam inside, the mat has good insulation.

- sturdy
- sewn-on compression straps
- compactly stowable

Tips:

In order to maintain and promote the effect of "self-inflating", a new mat should always be rolled out before the journey. When opening the mat for the first time, please inflate it slightly with your mouth and then leave it rolled out for a few days with the valve open. This allows the foam in the mat to expand. Before the journey, roll the mat tightly together - of course with the valve open. Close the valve. The mat is compact and ready to travel. At your destination, open the mat as soon as possible and leave it with the valve open. This will allow it to draw air and "inflate" itself. Before going to bed, you may want to blow a little more to make the mat a little harder, close the valve and enjoy the comfort and insulation.
