

Vallfirest Forest Fire Tool Gorgui V2

Order number: TO-03388

The multifunctional tool Gorgui is worldwide used in forest fire operations. This is the second generation and improved the used material in terms of balance and durability. The function of the "McLeod" got a bigger surface to improve the work performance. The use as McLeod as well as hoe is clearly separated. Also the surface of the Pulaski hoe has been improved to make working on organic ground easier. Especially the balance has been improved to make changing between the different tools easier. For rocky terrain, the angle of the Pulaski has been adjusted at 6 degrees. The material of the rake has been more hardened. The new design makes a better, defined use of the different functions possible. The handle was designed a bit stronger and adapted to the US Forest Service standards.
